

A GLOBAL INVESTMENT STRATEGY THAT AUTOMATICALLY ADAPTS TO MARKET CHANGES

Solas Wealth strategies are unique because they offer:

Asset class diversification

You gain exposure across several major global asset classes in a single investment vehicle

A rules-based process

Your capital can be protected during times of prolonged market volatility because the repeatable process for making all portfolio decisions leaves no room for emotional decision-making during times of euphoria or fear

A focus on downside protection

Your portfolio is constructed in a way that aims to preserve your investment during market downtrends (like the “coronacrash” of March 2020), which can be particularly important if you’re around retirement age

Automatic adjustments in response to market changes

Your portfolio naturally adapts when there are uptrends/downtrends in an asset class, interest rate change, volatility arises, and inflation/deflation occurs

SOLAS WEALTH OFFERS A TRUE ALL-WEATHER PORTFOLIO.

If the markets are in a “business as usual” mode, then your portfolio will look similar to other investment strategies you may be familiar with.

But, when unique market events arise, your portfolio will automatically adjust.

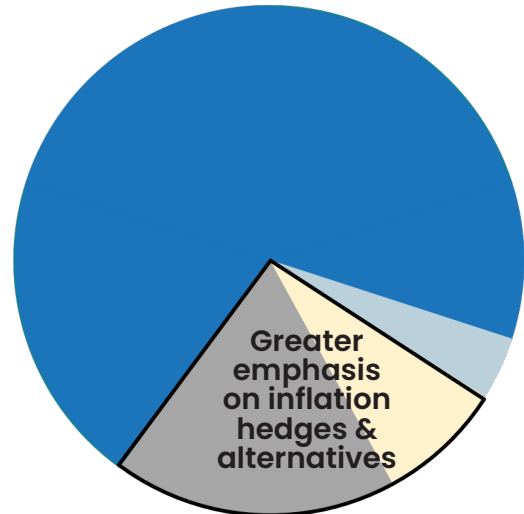

Here’s what this process can look like during four common market conditions:

■ Global Equities ■ Fixed Income ■ Inflation Hedge ■ Alternatives

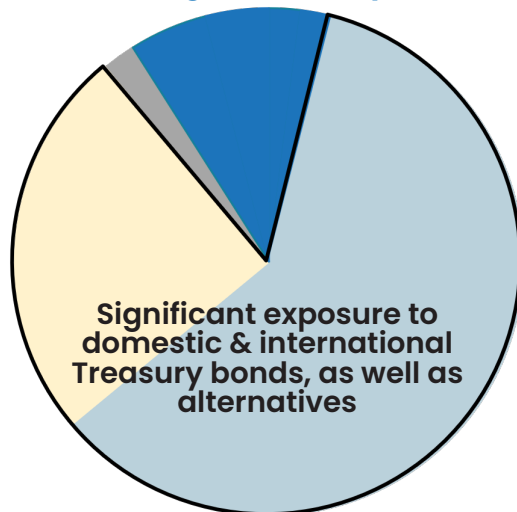

Usual Market: Stocks Rising & Volatility Low

Inflationary/Rising Rate Environment

Equities Falling & Volatility Increasing

Equities & Bonds Falling

This adaptive approach gives Solas Wealth the flexibility to manage risk for you, regardless of the market environment.
